Why Support the Montezuma Wetlands Complex?

The Montezuma Wetlands Complex is one of the most important places for birds in North America. This 50,000-acre region at the northern end of Cayuga Lake, known for its abundant wetlands is a major migration stopover for waterfowl, shorebirds, and land birds and provides breeding habitat for several species of conservation concern, including Bald Eagles, Black Terns, and Cerulean Warblers. Designated as an Important Bird Area of global significance in 1997, the Complex is a hub of bird conservation activity and research – past, present and future-- that has benefits extending far beyond its boundaries.

What is the Montezuma Muckrace?

The Muckrace is a “Big Day” birding competition within the Montezuma Wetlands Complex. Teams of some of the best birders as well as novice birders from across New York State and beyond, compete in the 24-hour event to see how many species they can identify. In addition to providing some good fun and excitement, the Muckrace raises money to support avian research and conservation within this important site.

Please do your part for the birds!

The fund raising goal for this year's event is $10,000. Proceeds will be used to support the goals of FOTMWC focusing on habitat restoration and improvement in cooperation with USFWS and NYSDEC, and other entities that are working to improve the complex. Public education and access continue as primary goals as we support the Montezuma Audubon Center, and various related projects within the complex.
